HERALD WINS GAME

Costly Errors Canse Berry & Whitmore's Defeat.

Joe Allen's Work in Center Field Double Play-Cook and Ogle Twirl Good Ball for Losers.

The Washington Herald struck their The Washington Herald struck their true stride yesterday when they trimmed the team from Berry & Whitmore for Nat. Union... 3 3 .600 St. Martin's.... the second time this season by 8 to 2. The newspaper lads have been having a bit of hard baseball luck in the last few games, but yesterday Manager Grat Southern. shifted the boys about somewhat, which proved to be a wise move, as the above score tells.

Ransom, who has been playing short, W. I held down the left garden, Keane being shifted from third to short, and Thaver was brought in from the right field to cover third base.

Joe Allen, who has been warming the bench for some time, was put out in center field, replacing A. Boyd. Allen's work in that position proved to be the feature of the game, for he made two brilliant running catches. Anderson also did some clever work at first base, replacing Eddie Beck. O'Brien, the slabman for the Newsles, showed himself equal to all occasions, and kept the Jewelers' hits well scat tered, denying them even a free pass. while the winners received five from the opposing slabmen

Cook and Ogle had been afforded any kind of support, they might have made the game more interesting, but they were handicapped by six costly en rors, which were all made at critical times, either letting a man on first or giving him time to score. Cook started the game on the mound for the Jewelers, but was found for three hits in the first inning, one of them going for an extra base, which was made by Ransom.

After the first chapter, however, he did good work until the fifth inning, when he was again touched up for two more Be Then Cook changed places with Ogle, who had been holding down center field, but it did not seem to make any difference to the Herald team, as they scored two more runs in that inning, which proved to be the last, for in the last inning Alien was put out, Wentz to ers, 6. Thompson, Thorne fanned, and Keane was left on base, when O'Brien flew out

Berry & Whitmore would have scored one more run in the sixth, when Thomp son caught the horsehide on the nose sending it to deep left field for a home run. He was, however, counted out for not touching second base. Miller also sent a screecher to center for two sacks in the seventh, which was as far as he got, as he was caught asleep when

O'Brien heaved to E. Boyd. Another feature play of the game, gothe credit of the winners, was when Mulloy flew out to Allen in center field, who quickly heaved the leather to Boyd, on second, putting out Cook.
